For iPhones:

Click on the settings icon and then scroll down and select "Privacy."

Then select "Location Services."

Make sure your "Location Services" is toggled to "On." (Should appear green as shown here.)

On that same screen for location Services, scroll down to locate the browser you are using. For iPhones, the browser is generally "Safari."

Click on the browser name and: be sure there is a checkmark next to "While Using the App" and ensure "Precise Location" is toggled to "On.) (Should Appear green as shown here.)
